TRAVIS PARKER has 30+ years of experience that includes styling everyone from top musicians, models, actors, to sports stars and even former First Lady Hillary Rodham Clinton. All turning to Parker for his ability to create a timeless, complimentary, and modern looks, thanks to his revolutionary hair cutting principles and comprehensive understanding of face framing. In addition to running his salon, Travis Parker's 10 year career with L'Oréal Professionnel has allowed him develop stylist, educators, salons, and curriculums all over the world. Most recently Travis has had the opportunity to co-create the current US cutting curriculum and the new global cutting curriculum developing and supporting the journey of hairdressers worldwide. A visit to your salon by Travis Parker starts with an interview of the owner and/or educational manager. This initial engagement helps to understand the unique strengths and weaknesses of each salon, its current curriculum, stylist levels and the "call for action" with a hands-on and/or demonstration course. Parker's extensive background in training and teaching will help him customize a course perfect for your salon.
